

I am opposed to the concentration of use of the public airwaves to a limited number of licensees, believing it to be dangerous for a relatively small number of owners to control information and entertainment in this nation. On the contrary, what is needed is competition and diversity.